30 Canadian Immigration Waves

- 1600s-1760: 65,000 Europeans arrived in New France
- 1776: 3,000 Black Loyalists
- 1783: 35,000 Loyalists from New York State
- 1815-1870: 170,000 Scots
- 1825-1850: 759,245 Irish See also Toronto Feature: Irish Potato Famine Refugees
- 1850-1860: 15,000 to 20,000 enslaved African Americans (via the Underground Railroad)
- 1858-1900: 29,031 Chinese
- 1877-1911: 9,000 Japanese
- 1891-1913: 170,000 Ukrainians
- 1901-1920: 120,767 Italians
- 1921-1930: 36,076 Finns
- 1947-1952: 250,000 displaced persons from Central and Eastern Europe See also Second World War
- 1951-1974: 132,731 Portuguese
- 1956: 37,000 Hungarians
- 1960-1969: 69,707 people from Caribbean countries
- 1967-1990: 100,000 Trinidadians and Tobagonians
- 1968-1969: 11,000 Czech refugees
- 1970s: 7,000 Chilean and other Latin American refugees
- 1970-1990: 20,000 Soviet Jews
- 1972-1973: 7,000 Ismaili Muslims from Uganda
- 1979-1980: 60,000 Vietnamese refugees
- 1981-1989: 2,300 to 3,000 Baha'i refugees from Iran
- 1983-2007: 114,896 Sri Lankans
- 1988-1993: 166,487 Hong Kong immigrants See also Hong Kong Handover
- 1999: 11,200 Kosovars (most airlifted to Canada during the Kosovo war)
- 2004-2013: 326,000 Chinese
- 2004-2013: 310,000 Indians
- 2004-2013: 263,000 Filipinos
- 2004-2013: 105,000 Pakistanis

THE CANADIAN ENCYCLOPEDIA