

NEW TO CANADA? FREE COURSE

Communicating in the Health Care Sector in Ontario

Occupation-specific Language Training (OSLT) Health Care

This 40-hour online course will help you to:

- Explore relevant cultural concepts and how to adapt communication to suit your purposes.
- Learn about and practise language skills for data collection in the workplace.
- Practise using the telephone and email effectively.
- Assess your data-collection, documentation and telephone skills.
- Practise verbal reporting and written documentation in the health care context.

Online class schedule:

- From February 16 to March 23
- Wednesdays, from 7 pm - 8 pm

All OSLT graduates will earn a Mohawk certificate.

This free course is for you if:

- You're a permanent resident of Canada or a protected person living in Ontario.
- You have English at an intermediate level (Canadian Language Benchmark 6 to 8)
- You have education or work experience in one of the following occupations: dental hygienist, dietitian, medical laboratory technologist, medical radiation technologist, nurse, occupational therapist, personal support worker, physiotherapist, or sleep technologist.
- You have access to a computer with a camera, microphone, and sound as well as an Internet connection.

Contact us

mohawkcollege.ca/oslt

📞 905-575-1212 Ext. 3092

✉ LearnEnglish@mohawkcollege.ca

Funded by:

Financé par :

Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada

Immigration, Réfugiés
et Citoyenneté Canada