

ABOUT ME

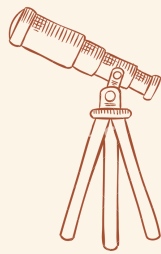

MLLE MOHSIN

A History of Teaching

I have wanted to be a teacher from a young age. Over the years I have volunteered as a reading buddy, homework helper and tutor. I have also worked as a private tutor and teaching assistant at McMaster University while completing my MA in French. I was then a student-teacher at HWDSB while attending Brock University's BEd program. I have experience working in both Core French and French immersion classrooms at the junior and intermediate levels.

A Love of Learning

I hope to inspire a long-lasting love of learning in my students. I believe as teachers we are responsible for fostering student curiosity, critical thinking and cultural awareness. By creating a safe and inclusive classroom, students should feel comfortable making mistakes and admitting when they don't understand. I am prepared to modify my lessons and accommodate all student needs to ensure universal success.

The Value of French Education

Growing up in a trilingual home, I understand the value of learning and working in multiple languages. For me personally, French has been a gateway into a series of adventures in travel, friendship, cuisine, art and literature. I hope to use the French language to develop student creativity, communication and collaboration.
