

Warning! There has been a tornado warning issued in the area. Everyone needs to secure their houses and take proper safety precautions. We have heard that this tornado may be the strongest one in the world, traveling to different countries. We are excited to see which houses will not be destroyed by this natural phenomenon!

Group A is living in Canada where they build their houses out of wood and string.

Group B are from Brazil where they live in the Amazon Rainforest. They make their houses out of wood and elastic bands.

Group C is from the Congo in Africa. They make their houses out of straws and hockey tape.

Group D is from Russia where they make their houses out of Popsicle sticks and duct tape.

Group E is from China where they make their houses out of straws and duct tape.

Group F is from Greece where they make their houses out of Popsicle sticks and hockey tape.

Best of luck!
