

Practicing Speech Sounds With _____

These games and activities will help with the N sound.

What to Expect:

- Improvement in speech takes time and practice.
- Your child should be able to say the N sound first, then say words with the N sound in them, and then move to saying the N sound in sentences.
- After a lot of practice, you should begin to hear the N sound in your child's everyday talking.

When and How to Practice:

- The more often you practice the better!
- Practices should only last for 10 to 20 minutes.
- Colour the Picture Cards and pictures on the Game Boards as you say the words together; cut out the cards and play a game like 'Find two cards that are the same'; use the Speech Games Calendar activities for more practice ideas.
- Work practices into your daily activities, like finding N words while reading or walking to school.
- Remember to Praise often and be specific, e.g. , "That was a great N sound!" or " You really tried hard on that one."

How to Get Started and Tips for Making the N Sound:

Step 1:

- Tell your child that you will be practicing making the N sound like a flying airplane "NNNNNN".
- Your child's tongue will be placed on the 'bump' behind the front teeth and air will be coming out of the nose.
- Have your child use a mirror to watch for the lip position while practicing sounding like the airplane's "NNNNNN".

Step 2:

- Have your child say some of the words on the picture cards.
- Move to playing games or using the Speech Games Calendar activities to practice saying the words with the N sound at the beginning of the word.
- Once this has been achieved, move to saying the words with the N sound at the end of the word, and then words with the N sound in the middle of the words.

Step 3:

- Now that your child can easily make the N sound in words, practice using the words in sentences.
- You can use the same activities you used in Step 2 and 3, but have your child make sentences like, " I have two Nickels." or "I really like to play with Natallie."

Step 4:

- After lots of practice with Steps 2-4, your child will finally be ready to use the N sound in daily talking.

If your child has trouble saying a word, try these cues:

- Say the instructions for making the sound, as in “Remember to sound like the airplane’s NNN.”
- Put extra stress on your sound. For example, say Nickel and really say the N sound loudly.
- Be specific when correcting your child, e.g. “Good try but you forgot your N sound in that word. I heard the T-sound. Let’s try again”.
- Take a break when your child needs it.

Free on-line Resources for Speech Sounds and Literacy:

- Go to Starfall.com. Click on the ABCs section and choose the letter for your child’s sound.
- Google Hamilton Public Library Tumblebooks for animated books, stories and activities. Your child can look at these books on their own and with you. Your child may also talk about the pictures in the story for more speech sound practice. Look for these book titles: “Nathan Saves Summer”, “The Night I Followed the Dog”.
- Computer apps, websites, and online videos can make learning fun and engaging but do not replace the guidance of parents and professionals. Your encouragement and support will be the best way to help your child improve.

Speech practice is fun!

Have fun and remember change takes time and practice!

Private Speech-Language Services in Your Community

Private speech and language services may be an option you would like to consider for your child. If you have extended health care benefits at work, you may want to check to see if you have coverage for speech and language services. Please let your school Speech-Language Pathologist know if you pursue private services as it is helpful to coordinate services provided by more than one Speech-Language Pathologist. Information regarding private Speech-Language Pathologists may be obtained through the following sources:
