

What is this case that holds me in? I must push...it won't budge...must try harder!

A crack in the cage! Must keep pushing....starting to give....more cracks appearing...air!

It's so cold out here...I hear the water...must get to the water....it's safe there...don't know how I know this but it is safe there.

Sand under my feet is so cold...must get to the water...flying monsters from above...they kill my brothers and sisters and eat them...must not get caught...push across the sand...must get to the water!

Why can't I move faster? This armour on my back is too heavy...must move faster before the monsters get me...there goes another of my brothers...body part torn asunder and blood raining down from the sky...must get to the water.

Only a little further...can feel the salt water spray on my nose...taste the fishy air...I am so hungry...food is in the water...safety is in the water...must get to the water.

Only one more foot...oh no...one of the monsters is coming down at me...he cannot miss...I am going to die...it's coming ...

AHHHHHHHH!!!!

I closed my eyes but nothing happened...the monster killed my sister beside me instead...must get to the water.

My feet are finally in the surf...I can float and move faster...ride the waves into the water...safe in the water.

I am underneath and the flying monsters can't get me now...time to find food...so hungry...dark and safe under here...enemies cannot see me...must stay hidden under the water with the rest of my family...look at them all swimming with me...today is the beginning of the adventure.
